JAZZ MUSIC WILL CAUSE INSANITY, SAYS DOCTOR

Expert Gives Address on Musical Therapeutics to Members of Club

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Member Evening News Staff.
"Jazz music has a very deleterious effect on the delicate nerve centers of the human body and has sent many people partly insane. So my advice is if you must have jazz music, take it in homeopathic doses."

Such was the informal diagnosis of the modern "jazz craze" and prescription for treatment given by Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley, physician and surgeon, musician and specialist in musical therapeutics, in his address "The Healing Power of Music" before the Tuesday Afternoon club yesterday afternoon in the Masonic temple.

Dr. Kingsley is one of the first and most prominent exponents of healing by music, the new science of the new age, and his intensely interesting illustrated talk to the club women was based on years of experience in the field of medicine and extensive research work in originating and applying the theory of healing by music.

Informal In Talk
Upon his introduction Dr. Kingsley has the very happy faculty of being one with his hearers and in a delightfully informal way to talk to them and play for them until the time has sped all too quickly, and he is bidding his new-made friends farewell while they are still anxious to learn more of the scientific experiences and investigations and deductions presented by the speaker.

Dr. Kingsley prefaced the real discussion of his subject by calling to the minds of the club women the changes in healing that the last 100 or 200 years have brought.

In Days of Old.
A century or more ago methods of healing were in the crudest form. A surgeon's success did not depend on his expert skill but on his speed, and a man who could amputate a member in three minutes was considered a real expert.

Dr. Kingsley called to the attention of his audience that such an (Continued on Page 3)

Total for Building Permits $6,113,391

Sixteen thousand dollars' worth of building permits were issued yesterday at the city hall in spite of the rain. This sum brought the total for the month up to $192,096 this morning and for the year to date to $6,113,391.

Five permits were issued yesterday as follows:

L. L. Lindsey, 5 rooms and garage, 1405 South Adams street.....	5000

Miss Hollingsworth Wed to H. L. Raley

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Hollingsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, to H. L. Raley of Los Angeles, took place last night, Tuesday, December 12, 1922, at the Hollingsworth home at 462 Riverdale drive. Rev. James Winward, pastor of the Tropic Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

Only the members of the immediate families attended the ceremony and the supper following.

Mr. and Mrs. Raley are to be at home to their friends on Olive avenue, Burbank.

Mrs. Franklin Kelly to Speak on India

Mrs. J. Franklin Kelly is to speak tonight at the Presbyterian church on "Our Church Work in India." The address will be the feature of the regular mid-week service.

The stereopticon slides used to illustrate Mrs. Kelly's talk were received last week from the Foreign Mission board in New York City and their showing tonight will be the first time in California.

Mrs. Kelly spent ten years in mission service in India. An offering is to be taken.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Residence

The Glendale Fire department was called to 296 East Chestnut street at 8:30 last night to extinguish a small fire. There was no damage reported.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Will Not Take Place

C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, announced this morning that the proposed ground breaking ceremonies for the new health plant, planned for next Sunday, will not take place, owing to the indications of rainy weather. It is proposed, said Manager Kimlin, to hold a dedication celebration later. In the meantime, the work on the new sanitarium will be rushed.

Look Out and Look Up! Milk to Come Out of Sky—Maybe

Milk will shortly be delivered to the citizens of Glendale by aeroplane, announces William MacMullin, manager of the Glendale Creamery, if negotiations under way with city officials are consummated.

Inasmuch as the municipal landing field recently acquired adjoins the property of the creamery, the project of an aero milk route occurred to Manager MacMullin at once.

"The plan is entirely feasible," he stated when interviewed. "The milk will be delivered in rubber bottles, dropped down right on the customer's front lawn."

Manager MacMullin denied that serious problems of delivery are involved in the project, stating it is unreasonable to assume that neighbors would complain they had not ordered their houses whitewashed.

And if rubber bottles, why not rubber milk? he asked. One week's milk could be stretched over a fortnight?

Britain Not to Join Allied Conference

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Great Britain may not participate in the next conference of allied premiers in Paris, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

The British treasury department is now drawing up a new reparations plan which will be submitted informally to France. If the French reject it, Premier Bonar Law is likely to reply that further conferences are useless and each nation must go its own way in the future.

Members of the British cabinet are understood to be angry over the unbending policy of Premier Poincare of France which was responsible for the breakdown of the meeting here on Monday.

Most of the British cabinet were said to believe that the German proposals, while not entirely satisfactory, would have been suitable as the basis of further negotiation. In order not to risk collapse of allied unity, Premier Bonar Law finally consented to the persuasions of the Belgians and Italians to put off further negotiations to a future date.

Anti-Flapper Bill Before Hawaiians

HONOLULU, Dec. 13.—Being a flapper will soon be against the law of the territory of Hawaii, provided a measure proposed by Thomas Pedro, newly elected representative from Hilo, wins favor with the legislature.

It was reported today that Pedro plans introducing a bill prohibiting girls and women from cutting the hair so that it does not fall below the shoulders.

D. of V. Postpone Scheduled Meeting

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the meeting and election of the Daughters of Veterans that was to have been held last night has been postponed until Tuesday night, December 26. At that time officers will be elected.

Uncle John Says--

Well, it seems like there is quite a little opposition to annexation to Los Angeles after all. The way it read in the Los Angeles papers at first me and Mary thought we was the only ones agin it. It looks to us like Glendale is a full-fledged city now and don't need any dictatin' to from outsiders no how. We've got a fine tradin' center and Glendale people know it. And if things don't go to suit me and Mary we go and tell Mayor Robinson about it and, by gum, he listens to us.

URGE BOND ISSUE TO SECURE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Representatives of Boards Suggest Mass Meeting Hear Proposition

The establishment of junior high schools at the proper time was definitely recommended last night in the High school by representatives of all the school boards in the Glendale Union High school district.

As the climax to the meeting, a resolution was passed requesting the high school board of trustees to call a mass meeting as soon as the new High school plant is ready for occupancy for the consideration of the issuance of bonds for the construction of junior high schools.

The conversion of the present high school plant into a junior high school as soon as possible is favored by both the high school board of trustees and the grammar school board of education.

The establishment of additional junior high schools was recommended in the northwest section of Glendale, in Eagle Rock, and near Tujunga and near La Crescenta.

Among those who spoke in favor of the establishment of junior high schools were: Richardson D. White, superintendent of the local grammar school system; George U. Moyle, principal of the local high school; E. E. Harwood, superintendent of grammar schools in Eagle Rock; F. W. Axe, principal of the grammar school at Tujunga.

The principal speech of the meeting was made by Mr. White, who outlined the junior high school idea from a physical, mental and moral standpoint. He stated that as far as he had been able to ascertain the only reason that the grammar school had been given eight years and the high school four years of pupil's life was because of the fact that formerly few grammar school graduates went to high school and educators desired to keep them in grammar schools as long as possible.

Legion-High School In Basketball Match

The local post of the American Legion and the high school faculty will clash in a game of basketball tonight at 8 o'clock in the boys' gymnasium at the Glendale Union High school. The contest is expected to be a fast one.

The line-up for the Legion team probably will be Woodruff Bunker, center; William Vaughn and A. L. Keller, guards; A. G. Swan and A. G. Wheeler, forwards. Substitutes will be J. S. Lathrop, Eugene J. Wix, Ralph Goodman, C. M. Salano, George Grist and Roy Selover.

The line-up for the faculty will be: Howard L. Butterfield, center; Normal C. Hayhurst and Eugene Wolfe, guards; Morgan N. Smith and Harold Wilson, forwards. Frederick F. Borncamp may be called upon as a substitute.

Mrs. A. L. Dennis to Instruct Bible Class

The Thursday morning Bible class for women will meet at the Presbyterian church tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The teacher, Mrs. A. L. Dennis of Los Angeles, will have charge and a very attractive program is assured.

Such enthusiasm has been evinced by the women of Glendale in these classes, owing to Mrs. Dennis' rare faculty of presenting Scriptural truth in an interesting manner, that it has become necessary to move the class from the Sunday school room to the auditorium in order to accommodate the increasing numbers attending each session.

At last week's session those present voted unanimously to receive a free will offering as an expression of appreciation of the work being done by Mrs. Dennis. This class is undenominational and open to all the women of Glendale.

Felix Colas Knocked Down by Automobile

Felix Colas of 345 West Harvard street was knocked down by an automobile driven by Ernest Schockley, of 615 Salem street, yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred near the intersection of Broadway and Central avenue. Mr. Schockley took Mr. Colas to his home.

Twelve Lives Lost When Vessel Sinks

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Twelve lives were lost in the sinking of the steam trawler Celerina, off Vardo today.

C. of C. Taking Vote Upon Issue Of Annexation

Every member of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce is urged to vote on the question of whether Glendale shall annex to Los Angeles. Ballots have already been mailed and must be returned to the Chamber of Commerce not later than next Saturday at noon. The board of directors of the chamber has already voted against annexation and the vote of the entire membership is desired.

Wet Christmas Is Evidently Promise From Santa Claus

"Say It With Showers" is old Jupiter Pluvius' pre-Christmas greeting to southern Californians and that Glendale hasn't been slighted is seen in the report of H. E. Bartlett, 333 West Broadway, custodian of local weather records, who states that 1.33 of an inch of rain fell between 6 o'clock last night and 6 o'clock this morning.

This brings the seasonal rainfall up to 5.04 inches. This is a mighty wet record compared with the seasonal report for this same time last year when only .99 inches of rain was recorded to that date.

According to Mr. Bartlett last year's winter rains didn't begin until December 18.

Following Hot Tip in Search for Clara

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—A new "tip" of such importance that newspapers agreed to keep the details a secret until later developments, was being followed today by Sheriff William I. Traeger and his deputies in their search for Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted "hammer murderer" who escaped from the county jail over a week ago. Undersheriff Biscailuz stated the new tip was far the best "lead" obtained so far in the search and it is thought to have been the fatal error on her part which may result in her being re-captured.

Storming the house of Mrs. Phillips' mother and two sisters at 714 West Fifty-sixth street, deputy sheriffs late yesterday made a thorough search of the place but failed to find any trace of the missing woman. An anonymous message to the sheriff's office had stated Mrs. Phillips had been seen at her mother's residence. Relatives of the former chorus girl denied they had heard from her since she escaped.

Dr. James A. Holmes to Address Baptists

A meeting tonight at the First Baptist church at the corner of West Wilson and Louise streets will open a week's evangelist series directed by Dr. James A. Holmes, state evangelist of the Baptist denomination.

Dr. Holmes is conducting a service every night except Saturday night and have the Sunday services on December 17 and 24. The final meeting will be a week from tonight.

The Baptists are planning for their Christmas program on Friday night, December 22.

Dog Bites Burglar in B. Lahamon Home

A pet dog belonging to B. Lahamon yesterday prevented his home at 1948 Gardena avenue from being thoroughly ransacked by a burglar. While no one was home, about 6:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, entry was gained into the house through a front window. Exit was made the same way, too—with blood stains left behind on the window sill. It is believed that the dog bit the burglar as he was leaving. The loot consisted of several stick pins.

Woman Is Kidnaped, Says Police Report

Mrs. John Everson of 611 North Central avenue about 6:30 o'clock last night telephoned the police department that a woman had just been dragged into a machine in front of her residence and that the machine had sped north on Central avenue with the woman screaming.

SEEK WAGE INCREASE
CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—A plea for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour for the 2,500 drivers, teamsters and chauffeurs employed by the American Railway Express company will be heard by the railway labor board on January 12, it was announced today.

DAISY JOHNSTON IS WED TO MANTON LEWIS WHITE

Elaborate Ceremony Takes Place Last Night With Many Friends Present

At a home ceremony taking place last night, Tuesday, December 12, 1922, at the attractive Spanish home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckland at Doran and Geneva streets, their daughter, Daisy Johnston, became the bride of Manton Lewis White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. White of 600 North Jackson street.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was the officiant, reading the service at 8 o'clock before a company of relatives and friends.

Bridal music was given by Mr. and Mrs. L. Roy Black of Glendale. Mrs. Black sang "All for You," D'Hardelot, accompanied by Mr. Black, who later gave a group of piano numbers.

Banked With Roses
The Buckland home was effectively decorated with masses of pink sweet peas and greenery and indirectly lighted. The fireplace before which the bridal party stood during the ceremony was banked with pink Cochet roses.

Miss Johnston and Mr. White were unattended. For the ceremony the bride wore a wedding gown of white georgette crepe and silver, worn with a veil held in place by a wreath of Cecil Bruner rose buds. She carried a shower bouquet of Cecil Bruner buds and lilies of the valley.

Congratulations followed the ceremony and later a two-course wedding supper was served.

On Motor Journey
Mrs. Buckland and Mr. White, mothers of the young couple, received the guests. Mrs. Buckland wore taupe and flame colored charmeuse, while Mrs. White was gowned in grey silk brocade.

At the conclusion of a two weeks' motor trip through Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. White are to be at home temporarily with Mr. White's parents at 600 North Jackson street.

Mrs. White is a Canadian, having come last year from Perry Sound, Ontario, Canada, to reside (Continued on Page 12)

Rail Bonus Figures in Court Hearing

Suit to force a further accounting of $23,000 subscribed about eight years ago, towards a bonus to be paid the Pacific Electric upon extending its line from Adams street diagonally to San Fernando road and Brand boulevard, is being tried today by Judge Charles S. Burnell in the superior court, Los Angeles.

The committee which promoted this project, secured subscriptions amounting to $40,000 but only about $23,000 was collected. After failure of the Pacific Electric to extend its line further than Adams street about two years later the committee submitted a detailed report at a public meeting in the city hall.

This report was accepted as satisfactory by a majority of the subscribers. The present suit was brought by those dissatisfied with the accounting.

Among those attending the hearing as witnesses or otherwise interested, are: Mayor Spencer Robinson, T. W. Watson, F. H. Vesper, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, Mrs. A. Askeland, J. C. Sherer, Mrs. Amanda Fleming, J. S. Reed, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, W. W. McElroy, J. N. McGillis, K. C. Sippel, John F. Chandler, J. C. Pierce and W. F. Dair.

Mrs. Johnson Passes Eightieth Milestone

Despite the rainy weather and the fact that she was confined to her bed with a slight cold, Mrs. Hattie M. Johnston celebrated her eightieth birthday yesterday in a pleasing manner at her home, 111 North Everett street. Kind friends had sent cards by the score, and many beautiful bouquets of flowers brightened the room.

Unfortunately her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Johnston, was also confined to her bed with a cold, but Mrs. W. C. Richardson, the latter's sister-in-law, acted as hostess of the occasion in her stead.

The prevailing flowers were chrysanthemums, carnations and violets.

H. Moyle Elected 'Grid' Team Captain

Hollis Moyle, son of George U. Moyle, of 322 East Harvard street, has been elected captain of next season's football team at the California Institute of Technology. Young Moyle participated in every game of football in which his team took part this season. During his first year at college he was captain of the freshman team.

Today's World News in Brief

By International News Service Leased Wire

CLEMENCEAU OPPOSES FRANCE TAKING GERMANY
NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Gorges Clemenceau, the "tiger" of France, symbolized the dove of peace when he sailed for home just before noon today on the liner Paris. He declared against further occupation of Germany by French troops, saying that "no real Frenchman wants to annex a foot of German territory." Wrapped in a fur-collared great coat, with his now famous soft felt hat pulled down over his ears, the former French premier waved an affectionate farewell to the land that he said he should never see again.

POLA NEGRI FAILS TO ATTEND DINNER PARTY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—The much reported engagement of Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, and Pola Negri, Polish screen beauty, took added interest today when it was reported that Miss Negri failed to appear at a dinner given last night by Adolph Zukor, the surprise feature of which was said to have been the confirmation of the reported engagement of the two stars. But Zukor's party, attended by "Doug" and Mary, and Mrs. Jesse Lasky, Chaplin and several others, was a great success, though Miss Negri sent her regrets, saying she could not attend because of illness. But the truth of the report that the two stars' engagement was to have been announced at Zukor's dinner could not be confirmed in film circles today. Those asked about it shrugged their shoulders and said, "I don't know."

WOODROW WILSON MORE ACTIVE IN POLITICS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Woodrow Wilson's retirement from the law firm of Wilson & Colby may be taken as indication of the former president's announced interest and activities in political and public affairs, it was said here today by close friends of Mr. Wilson. At the Wilson home in S street today it was stated there was "nothing to be said" concerning Mr. Wilson's retirement from law practice with his former secretary of state. Mr. Wilson has been a silent partner in the law firm since it was organized soon after his retirement from the White House. His work has been largely that of a quiet counselor, while former Secretary of State Colby has conducted the active affairs of the firm. With the rapid improvement of the former president's physical condition and his re-awakened interest in the political situation since the Democratic gains of the November election, Mr. Wilson now desires, according to friends, to devote more time to consideration of public affairs.

ALLIES SERVE ULTIMATUM UPON TURKS TODAY

LAUSANNE, Dec. 13.—Lord Curzon, head of the British delegation in the Near East peace conference, today, speaking for the allies, served an ultimatum upon the Turks that unless they cease obstructing the allied delegates' efforts to make progress towards a settlement "there is no use of continuing further with the parley." Protection of the minorities (Christians) in Turkey is a vital world question, said Lord Curzon. "If this conference breaks down," he continued, "there will not be a voice in the world raised in behalf of Turkey." Earlier Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, rejected the Anglo-American request for a national homeland for the Armenians as a "new attempt to dismember Turkey." He consented to grant amnesty to Christian offenders, but declared that the minority population in Turkey must submit to military service. Ismet opposed creating an international commission to safeguard Christians in Turkey, saying that clauses written into the treaty for this purpose would be sufficient.

OFFERS DARK PICTURE OF FINANCIAL EUROPE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—"America can expect no early payment of foreign war debts while Germany, the key to the situation, is held in a state of 'scorched' by unreasonable demands of the French and other allies," declared Representative Theodore E. Burton, member of the American debt commission, in a speech today before the Washington Association of Credit Men. Burton recently returned from a European tour. He painted a dark picture of Europe's financial and political chaos and asserted that the Russian and Turkish situations are menacing. Burton, decrying pleas for debt cancellation, said in the adjustment of those obligations the United States should pursue a "liberal" policy to help many of the debtors get on their feet again. He did not believe the time of payment of the principal on the obligations should be fixed by any hard and fast rule, nor did he believe that a rigid rule should be laid down as to rates of interest. Regarding Europe's present commercial strife, he said: "For Europe, the remedy is not cancellation of debts to us, but in the adoption of more rational fiscal policies, abatement of military expenses."

BELIEVES FRANCE WILL RATIFY NAVAL TREATY

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Fears in America that France will refuse to ratify the five-power naval treaty adopted by the Washington arms conference are entirely unwarranted, in the opinion of Georges Clemenceau, ex-premier of France, who sailed today on the liner Paris for home. She will also give formal approval to the four power pact and the other conference agreements as well, the "tiger" believes. Clemenceau himself is a staunch supporter of the treaties and he believes France will be for them regardless of any change in government. The "tiger" believes the principle of the four power Pacific treaty might readily be extended to the Atlantic and, therefore, to Europe. Notwithstanding suggestions from the White House that there is no relation between the two problems Clemenceau is not convinced. "Any so-called European problem in reality is as much American as European," he declared. "That being the case, why should not some such arrangement as the four power pact be worked out for Europe? Not a soldier need be sent to France, but the mere moral effect of such an agreement would be sufficient to stabilize conditions there."

MUCH WRANGLING OCCURS IN DAUGHTERTY PROBE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Acrimonious wrangling between members of the judiciary committee of the house and those who are seeking the impeachment of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty again marked the progress of the proceedings when they got under way today. Representatives of organized labor, represented by Jackson Ralston, chief counsel for the American Federation of Labor, resumed its attack on the attorney general. Exclusion of some evidence by the judiciary committee led to a threat by Ralston to obtain an order "from the full house of representatives" for the production of the evidence he wished to present. Ralston frequently clashed with Representative Volstead, Republican, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee, over his ruling out of certain evidence which alleged "indecent conduct" on the part of William J. Burns, whom Daugherty made chief of the bureau of investigation. Daugherty's appointment of Burns is one of the acts upon which the attorney general's enemies seek his impeachment. They allege Burns is "unfit," and consequently Daugherty, by appointing him, also is "unfit" for the high office he holds.

COUNCIL MINUTES TELL PURCHASE OF 33 ACRES

Official Records Are Given Out in Statement on Buying of Land

William H. Reeves, city manager, today requested The Glendale Evening News to publish the following statement, authorized by the City Council, relative to the purchase by the city of thirty-three acres for $66,000, as already related in this newspaper:

Editor The Glendale Evening News: The publicity given in your issue of Tuesday evening with reference to the purchase of thirty-three acres of land by the city of Glendale might be open to misconception. For this reason the City Council authorizes the following statement:

The thirty-three acres of land was purchased by the city at the request of the superintendent of plant and production as water-bearing land adjacent to that which the city now owns, on which additional wells and reservoirs will later be located for the purpose of assuring an adequate supply of water to the people of Glendale.

An additional inducement for the purchase of this land at this time was found in the fact that a number of firms connected with the airplane industry are very desirous of leasing a portion of this ground for use as an airport at a price which would furnish a considerable revenue to the city of Glendale. This airport, if established, would not in any way interfere with the use of the land by the water department of the city of Glendale and would be entirely incidental thereto.

Official Minutes
The official minutes of the City Council bearing upon this purchase read as follows:

"Whereas, it has been called to the attention of the City Council that lots 4, 5 and 6 of block 36, of Rancho Providencia and Scott tract, comprising thirty-three acres, can be purchased for the sum of $66,000 on the following terms, to-wit:

"Sixteen thousand five hundred dollars cash, payable December 9, 1922; $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1924; $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1925, and $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1926, with interest at 7 per cent, and

"Whereas, said real estate is adjoining the sixteen acres now owned by the city of Glendale, being water-bearing land, on which a pumping plant is now in use by the city of Glendale for supplying the inhabitants thereof with water, and

"Whereas, the superintendent of plant and production recommends the purchase of the same for additional water-bearing lands for the city of Glendale,

Order Contract
"Now, therefore, the mayor and city clerk are hereby authorized and instructed to execute a contract for the purchase of said lands for the said sum of $66,000, payable as follows:

"Sixteen thousand five hundred dollars cash, payable December 9, 1922; $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1924; $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1925, and $16,500 payable on or before December 9, 1926, with interest at 7 per cent.

"Be it further resolved, that the mayor of the city of Glendale be authorized and instructed on behalf of the said city, to this day enter into escrow for the purchase of said lands on said terms, and

"Be it further resolved, that the sum of $16,500 be appropriated from the public service fund and a warrant drawn for the same, said warrant to be deposited in escrow this day for the purchase of said lands."

WILLIAM H. REEVES,
City Manager.

A. Chapman Family Returns to Glendale

Mrs. Stella Goodman reports the leasing of the property at 528 North Glendale avenue, owned by Mrs. J. F. Swisher of North Orange street, to Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Chapman, recent arrivals from Ventura.

The latter were formerly residents of Glendale. They resided on Salem street. They left here nine years ago, and located first in Ojai, and later went to Ventura where they invested in an orange grove. They recently disposed of the property and decided that there was no place like Glendale. They were very much surprised at the changes that had taken place since they left the city. They plan to invest in a home in the near future.

'APPROVES IN THEORY'

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—Secretary of War Weeks announced today he "approved in theory" the proposal of the administration for the consolidation of the war and navy departments in connection with the plan for the reorganization of the government.

BOY SCOUTS IN CONSTRUCTION IN ANNUAL CONTEST AT EAGLE ROCK

Troop Will Vie for Prizes Awarded for the Best Achievements

The first annual troop achievement contest of the Eagle Rock boy scouts started on December 1, and will run in three periods of four months' duration each, ending November 30, 1923.

The contest aims to create a closer relationship between the home, the school and the church. It will be directed by the troop leaders' round table under the auspices of the Verdugo Hills district council B. S. A.

Proficiency in scouting, attendance at religious services and the grading received at school are the points that will be taken into consideration in awarding prizes.

Worth Striving For

A rotary club banner furnished by the Glendale Rotary club will be given as a special prize. It will be awarded to the troop winning it twice. First prize is a pure silk American flag, parade size, furnished by a Glendale lodge. Second prize, pine tree patrol trek cart, given by Glendale Lodge 1223. Knights of Columbus, Glendale Post, 127, American Legion, donates a large drum. A first aid kit is offered by the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross as a fifth prize.

The Eagle Rock scouts are showing much interest in the contest. Each individual has made a good running start toward landing for the troop one of the coveted prizes.

Funeral of William Fereault Is Held

William Fereault, 41, passed away at his home at 138 South Royal Drive, Eagle Rock, Saturday afternoon. A wife and eleven-year-old son survive.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Edward J. Brannner, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the Lamb mortuary on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Singers were Mrs. A. D. Crow, Mrs. J. A. Morrow and Mrs. Edward J. Brannner.

Dads' Night Is Held at 'Oxy' College

Chi Rho fraternity at Occidental college recently ushered in an event which they have strong hopes of making an annual affair. It was "Dads' Night," and proved a huge success.

Several members of the faculty were present as well as about ten dads. All agreed the get-acquainted idea had great possibilities. Several "Frats" provided musical numbers.

PIONEER BOOSTS EAGLE ROCK BOND PERMITS GRANTED

CLIMATE ON TAP IN EAGLE ROCK

C. W. Young, one of Eagle Rock's pioneers, says this is sure some climate. Mr. Young and his wife arrived here from Illinois seventeen years ago. "At that time," Mr. Young said, "I weighed ninety pounds. Now I tip the scales at better than 200. Also from my point of vantage on the heights, I could see five houses. Now try to count them."

Mr. Young, who is dabbling in real estate as a popular pastime, says the growth of Eagle Rock during the past two years has been remarkable.

J. E. Mears and family, recently of Pasadena, have purchased a home at 330 North Salsima avenue and are now enjoying real home life in Eagle Rock.

G. M. Knight is a recent purchaser of a home at 153 North Royal Drive. He was formerly located at Fallbrook.

Rev. B. B. Weatherall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is away on a vacation, his health requiring a slight change. Rev. Paul Elliott, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Los Angeles, occupied the pulpit Sunday morning.

The Eagle Rock sign has been moved from the old location to the Edwards & Wilkey and Shaff properties.

Under the direction of Mrs. M. L. Marshall, the Congregational church will give a Christmas pageant at the Central school Saturday evening, December 23. More than fifty people will take part in the show, which promises to be one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season.

A. J. Braasch, of 232 North Elwood Drive, Eagle Rock, received a telegram Monday that his brother, Dr. W. F. Braasch and his wife, of Rochester, New York, were the proud parents of a fine baby boy who had put in an appearance the same morning. Dr. Braasch is on the medical staff at Mayo Brothers hospital. Both Mr. and Mrs. Braasch are quite well known in Eagle Rock.

Those interested in the line carried by the P. T. A. gift shop in Eagle Rock will be pleased to learn that a new feature will be introduced Thursday.

Honeymoon Ends in Fatal Auto Crash

BELOIT, Wis.—The honeymoon tour of Mr. and Mrs. Stevan Brown ended disastrously when the car, driven by Brown, overturned in a ditch on the outskirts of Durand. A broken steering gear caused the crash. Mrs. Brown's neck was broken, and she died almost instantly. The Browns had been married less than a week.

ISSUE REJECTED BY VOTERS

Big Majority Oppose Raising of $125,000 for Civic Improvements

The special municipal election for the voting of bonds in the amount of $125,000 for improving the water system, providing greater fire protection and to make the street lighting system better in Eagle Rock failed to carry yesterday by a large majority. A total of 1773 votes were cast, 653 being in favor of bonding and 1120 opposed.

The first proposition on the ballot to be voted on provided for an issue of $60,000 for additions and betterments to the water works system. The vote in ward one resulted in eighty-four persons casting their vote in favor and 206 in opposition. In ward two, the vote was, yes—118, no 184.

The second proposition called for $40,000 for fire protection. Eighty-four votes were cast in favor of bonding and 206 in opposition in ward one. Ward two voted 138 for and 163 against.

The third proposition asked for $25,000 for the improvement of the lighting system, and brought out a vote very similar, so far as results go as the first two. Ward one voted ninety-three for and 195 against.

Election Results Predicted
Despite the fact that rain fell incessantly during the entire day, much interest was manifested in the election, though it was predicted early in the day that the bonds would fail to carry. Supporters of the measures claim that the matter of annexation had a heavy bearing on the outcome, many voters feeling that it would be better to await the outcome of the annexation problem.

Polling places were at the public library for voters of the first ward and at the city hall for those of the second. The election officers at the first were: Clerks Frank H. Ring, Lena Miller. Judges were: R. C. Harnbaugh and Hope W. Bourne. Inspectors were: Sylvester and Bricken-ske.

Miss Edith M. Eckert and Ciddie M. Hawkins clerked for the board in the second ward. The inspector was A. L. McCamman and the judges, Mable M. Romage and Bertha G. Morris.

Captain Alcumbrac Reported Very Ill

The numerous friends of Captain Alcumbrac are worried over his physical condition. Reports from his home on Manhattan Way this morning indicate that he is very low.

Captain Alcumbrac is the father of Mrs. John Goff. Both families are among the early residents of Eagle Rock and have a wide acquaintance.

Citizenship Puzzle in Manila, Reported

MANILA—Considerable interest is being shown in an application of a British subject for citizenship in the Philippines. A rather anomalous condition exists in the islands, as regards citizenship. In spite of the fact that the Philippines are American territory Filipinos are not American citizens, nor are Americans living in the islands citizens of the Philippines. The country has its own naturalization laws which require a period of residence and certain property qualifications.

WILLIAM HERSEL CATERER DE LUXE

Served as Head Steward at Waldorf-Astoria; Now
Serving Glendale

"Come right in" is the cordial invitation of Caterer William Hersel to those who journey to 637 East Broadway to partake of his hospitality at the Broadway Inn.
Mr. Hersel prides himself upon being a bon-vivant and an epicure. He knows good food and he knows how it should be served. It is contrary to his policy to have anything except the best quality of food served in the most attractive manner possible.

Long experience qualifies Mr. Hersel to claim the distinction of being "a real caterer." During his career he has been head steward at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, and purchasing agent for the Hamburg-American Steamship company. At different times he has been proprietor of two restaurants in Minneapolis, The Gargoyle and The Astor.

The Broadway Inn has been under the management of Mr. Hersel for the past seven months. During this time, its popularity has increased by leaps and bounds largely because of two things: good food and good service. Mr. Hersel points with pride to the fact that many of the most discriminating families are now his guests regularly.

Caters to Clubs.

Several of Glendale's luncheon clubs make the Broadway Inn their headquarters. This noon he is host to the Glendale Exchange Club, tomorrow noon to the Glendale Realty Board, tomorrow evening to the Glendale Advancement Association, and Friday noon to the Glendale Kiwanis club.

The Broadway Inn was particularly popular Thanksgiving when families came there not only from all sections of Glendale but from Hollywood, Pasadena and Los Angeles as well. On this occasion more than 475 dinners were served. Everyone seemed satisfied except the turkeys which were the guests at each table.

The Christmas and New Year's menus are being constructed already by Mr. Hersel. He announced this morning that turkey, suckling pig and filet mignon would be the principal items on the bill-of-fare. Glendale Elks have engaged Caterer Hersel to direct their annual banquet New Year's eve. This function will be attended by about 600 local Elks.

DRESS SUITS AND CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Did you ever hear the story of the man whose wife was helping him into his dress suit? She was half-way dressed when she came to her husband. "See if you can button this blamed collar? I can't. Where are my cuff buttons? Where the blazes did you put the shirt studs? You'll have to get me another collar—you've made such a mess of this, I wouldn't wear it to a dog fight." "I laid a clean handkerchief there two minutes ago. Oh, well, I don't know who put that collar on it, I didn't."

Finally she gets him dressed. He settles himself into his coat and stands admiring himself, then he turns and catches sight of his wife still half-way dressed.

"Great Scott," he exclaims, "here I am dressed and you've still got on that kimono thing you had on half an hour ago. What have you been doing with yourself all this time?"

I love that story. And I often think of it. Of course his is easy! I thought of it yesterday when I heard a man asking his wife why she didn't have her Christmas shopping done. "You've been downtown three days," he pointed out to her and yet you tell me you have hardly bought a thing. That have you been doing all this time? I spent about an hour yesterday afternoon and got most of mine done. It's lucky men don't work the way women do, I'll say."

Now that man gives his wife a small sum every year with which she is supposed to buy gifts for the children, for his relatives and for herself. She wants to get as much as she can. He wants her to get as much as she can. Can she do that by going into the first shop and buying whatever is offered? That's the way he does with the few gifts that he buys. He goes into a good shop and pays whatever price is asked. Of course his shopping is a simple thing.

CARE OF CLOTHING

Care of clothing is true thrift, and more important to one who would look well on a small amount than the original buying, for it not only doubles the life of a garment but keeps it looking well as long as anything of its kind. This is noticeably true of material of good value. With cheap garments, good care is more necessary if one is to have any satisfaction whatever from them.

Nothing looks well when there are spots to be seen on it. If a garment is full of dust and a drop of water falls on it the result is a spot. A clean cloth wrung out of hot water will remove the spot. For more obstinate spots have on hand a good home-made cleaning preparation. An application will remove the spot before it becomes hard. Try the following, adding one and one-half ounces of pure white soap to a pint of hot water. Shake the soap so that it will more quickly dissolve. Boil for ten minutes after the soap has dissolved, and then turn into a glass or china holder. Keep closely covered. This is recommended as being equal to the needs of a family from taking out ink-spots to cleaning gloves.

Paint on clothing should be treated with turpentine and ammonia in equal parts. Saturate two or three times if necessary and wash out in white soap suds. Clear, black coffee diluted with water and containing a little ammonia may be used for clean black cloth garments.

A gasoline bath can be used for faces, dainty draps, blouses, and nearly anything. A bath of gasoline means three relays of it. In the first the material soaks enough to loosen the dirt, and in the other two it is rinsed out. The cleanest things are first treated and the "waters" are used until they are dirty. The cleaning must be done out of doors because gasoline is dangerous to handle in the house.

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

TUBERCULOSIS—NO. 3

In my two previous articles this week on Tuberculosis I have laid emphasis upon the fact that tuberculosis is caused by a specific germ. I devoted the two papers to this because there is so much drift written by people who know nothing of the subject along the line that the tuberculosis germs are not the cause but the effect of the disease, else why are they not present in the early stages? etc., ad nauseum.

Such teaching will do a great deal of harm. It will make people who are affected careless with their expectoration, and it will make those around tuberculosis patients less careful. It is not dangerous for adults to be around tuberculosis patients when they recognize the cause of it and are careful.

An active tuberculosis case may expectorate from a few to billions of the tuberculosis bacilli a day. Pottenger states that it is not unusual for them to expectorate several millions a day. Sometimes patients will expectorate for months and sometimes years. If these patients are taught that their expectoration is not dangerous, can you see the far-reaching evil effects of such teaching?

It is estimated that about 10 per cent of the cattle in the dairy herds have tuberculosis. If it is taught that these tuberculosis germs which they have and may pass on in their milk is not dangerous, here is another menace.

Tuberculosis deaths are one-half what they were a decade ago because of the education disseminated that tuberculosis is due to a specific germ and that it can be controlled through knowing this fact.

As to the question why are they not present in the early stages of the disease, that is easy. They are present in the early stages of the disease. They are not discovered until later because until the tissues break down the germs are not coughed up.

BEAUTY CHATS by EDNA KENT FORBES

WELL TRIMMED EYEBROWS

After a temporary eclipse from favor, there threatens to be a return of the fad for hairline eyebrows. I think that all women who have any sense of beauty should band together to stop the fashion by—well, by not following it. At least, then, it will be like the ear puffs of the last few years, the badge of the commonest sort of girl, or of the girl with no sense of good looks or fashion.

"Hairline" eyebrows are those measuring about an eighth of an inch across. They are achieved by going to a beauty (so called!) shop, and paying 50 cents to $1 to have the rest of the brow shaved off, leaving a thin arch of hair. Though slender, well arched brows are always desirable, these atrocities have no merit, not even that of being a good imitation.

For they take away all character from the face. Well defined eyebrows give a great deal of expression. Thick brows lend a strength and a determination to the expression that many faces need. "Penciled" brows lend delicacy—and some heavy featured faces need this, even when it is achieved artificially. But it is never achieved by hairline effects.

Clip off the hairs that spoil the line of the eyebrows, or else pluck them out with tweezers. Keep the brows moulded this way into a clean, nicely formed arch. Clipping does no harm, even though it must be done every week or so. Some heaviness can be eliminated from a heavy eyebrow, without sacrificing character and expression to a silly fad. This is so easy to do for oneself that I wouldn't advise electric needle treatment.

Janot—Sixteen is rather old to be wearing the hair in long curls, even though a popular movie actress does so. Wavy gold hair is so pretty it does seem a pity to do it up sedately where it is coiled into a knot and its beauty hidden. But, until the fashion changes and women whose hair is lovely can show its length and lustre, we all must conform. It may not be individual, but it's safe.

Book Reviews

Book lovers will find a literary potpourri awaiting them at the Glendale Public Library on the shelf of books that have "just come in." One is overcome with the many allurements among the new books and it is difficult to choose just the one to read first.

Among the newer books are: "One of Ours" by Willa Cather, author of "Youth and the Bright Medusa." It is said that the author devoted three years to writing this new book, which is her first long novel since 1918. It is the story of a sort of young Hamlet of the prairies, a hunting tale of his life and fate.

According to one critic "It is the intimate story of a young man's life. His stormy youth, of enigmatic marriage and final adieu, which releases the baffled energy of his boy's nature, told with almost epic simplicity. But behind the personal drama there is an ever deepening sense of national drama, of national character, working itself out through individuals and their destiny."

Another new book is "The Psalms as Liturgies" by John P. Peters, Ph. D. and D. D. In the book the Psalms are treated for the first time as liturgies prepared for and primarily used in the sacrificial services of the Jewish Temple.

"Tramping With a Poet in the Rockies" by Stephen Graham, author of "Europe Whither Bound." In presenting his book to the reading public Mr. Graham has placed on the cover a clever sketch showing the elements of good coffee. It is drawn in an oval and there one sees coffee beans, water falls, fire, stone, mosquito netting, pyre and love, all requisites to good coffee, according to the author of the book.

The Glendale

Wesley Barry ardently dislikes one kind of a bath—and that is one with the temperature below forty. The script of "Rags to Riches," now at the Glendale Theatre, called for Wesley to make a high dive into a bathtub. The unsuspecting youngster made the dive in all good faith and form, but he lost no time in climbing out, for Producer Harry Rapf, to get certain effects, had slipped a lot of shaved ice into the tub.

The T. D. & L.

"Kick In," one of the cleverest pictures to come from the spoken drama to the screen in some time, is the feature at the T. D. & L. Theatre today and tomorrow. It is the film translation of the great Willard Mack play that ran two seasons in New York. Featured in this big Paramount production are three leading stars—Betty Compson, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy. A remarkable photoplay is the result.

AMERICAN LEAGUE IN MEET TODAY

Many Players Due to Change
Hands; Col. Huston
Will Make Exit

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Possibly not the probable developments of another day of baseball's annual talk-as-talk-can series are the arrival of Eddie Collins and Jake May with the Yankees from Chicago and Vernon, respectively, the transfer of Lee Meadows from the Phils to the Cubs, Zach Wheat from the Dodgers to the Cardinals, Jake Daubert from the Reds to the Braves and the terrific pop of the bombshell which Ban Johnson has promised to toss into the meeting of the American league this afternoon.

The meeting will mark the last official appearance of Colonel T. L. Huston, who is selling out his half interest in the Yankees to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Mr. Johnson and others with whom the colonel took vociferous issue from time to time will be politely dolorous at the prospect.

Everything is being arranged for a graceful exit, even to the extent of presenting the Yanks with Eddie Collins, Bibb Falk and Sam Rice. The White Sox, it seems, are to get Aaron Ward and permission to lure Roger Peckinpaugh from Washington.

If Collins comes to the Yanks there is not the slightest doubt that Huggins' employees will go elsewhere. Off-hand, Comiskey would want Carl Mays, Bob Meusel and a young pitcher, probably George Murray.

Tickets Go on Sale for New Year Game

Applications are being received daily at the University of Southern California for tickets to the East vs. West game in the Tournament of Roses stadium at Pasadena, New Year's Day. The role was formally launched today with popular priced seats selling at $2.75 and $5.50. There will be accommodations for 55,000 people.

When the University of Southern California faces Penn State in the Western classic, a southern California team will be defending the West's goal for the first time. In view of this fact, Tournament of Roses officials are expecting an unusually enthusiastic response from the Southland.

This game will be the initial one in which competing teams have been selected by the Pacific Coast conference. Penn State was chosen early in the season, while U. S. C. received a 6 to 8 vote last week. Oregon was the only other contender.

This New Year's classic has been played yearly since 1916, with the exception of the war year in 1918, the two contestants representing, to a great degree, the relative strength of eastern teams as against western teams. The two strongest teams have always been chosen, as far as was possible.

Just what were the determining factors resulting in the selection of U. S. C. are not known. But they undoubtedly took into consideration the close score to which U. S. C. held California, and the decisive victory over the Washington State Cougar last Thanksgiving Day. Oregon, it is known, had a clean slate in her losers' column, but U. S. C. had defeated teams which Oregon also did, but by larger scores.

When Walter Higgins, Columbia university's plucky hurdler, defeated a classy field in the cross-country six-mile run and won the intercollegiate championship close to record time, he proved beyond a doubt that he is the king distance runner of the year.

Higgins was opposed by runners from 18 colleges and he led the field at the tape by 45 yards in the fast time of 52 minutes 14 1/2 seconds.

Walter also holds the intercollegiate two-mile record and has for the last two years been forcing the very best runners in the land to extend themselves in every event that he has entered.

This 21-year-old youth has put himself through college by delivering papers. He is a graduate of Morris High in New York city. He did a little running there but it was not until two years ago that he began to show real promise.

Higgins is a shy, mild-mannered chap weighing around 145 and stands 5 ft. 10 in. This is his last year in school.

Gloomy Gus Starts His Team to Work

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—After more than two weeks' absence Gloomy Gus Henderson, moving spirit behind the football team of the University of Southern California, has returned to the home stamping grounds to start practice for the New Year's Day football game against Penn State at the Tournament of Roses Stadium, Pasadena.

Henderson and Graduate Manager Gwynn Wilson went north to attend the annual conference of the members of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference where the schedule for games next year was made and other plans were discussed. The vote announcing the fact that the University of Southern California had been selected to play the annual intercollegiate game was announced while the two representatives were on their way north, and after the meeting, which followed the election, was held, Henderson stated that he would be glad to play Penn State if the Conference members would give his team all of their support.

Henderson and Wilson arrived yesterday morning. A great celebration was planned to welcome the conquering hero, the band, rooting section, and several members of the football squad being on the reception committee.

Intensive training has begun, suits having been given to all men who applied for them. Henderson has announced by wire to his high powered assistant, Bill Hunter, that the practice would begin exactly where it began on the first day of school last fall: falling on the back, tackling the dummy, and signal practice all getting a good share of attention.

Paddock Returns to Trojan Cinderpath

Fashions for men are scheduled for a change to lighter weight clothing at the University of Southern California. Immediately after the New Year's game with Penn State, football jerseys and tan trousers will be discarded for natty white track suits.

With the announcement that Charles Paddock, the greatest sprinter of all time, would compete for the cardinal and gold track prospects took on a rosy hue. Paddock had forsaken the cinder path for good, but when the National A. A. U. questioned the timing of his records, he determined to set the marks good for all time. Every precaution will be taken for correct timing by the university.

Last year U. S. C. was handicapped by a lack of second and third place men, but Coach Cromwell, the veteran trainer, hopes to have a first class aggregation this season.

Three of the best known track and field athletes of this country are today on their way to New Zealand as representatives of this country. They will participate in a number of meets in New Zealand including the New Zealand annual championships.

The trio making the trip are all members of the San Francisco Olympic club as follows:

Morris Kirksey, sprints.
George Krogness, hurdles.
Jack Merchant, field events.

None of these men need any introduction to followers of track and field sports in this country. Kirksey has long been recognized as one of the greatest sprinters of the country and has been the one man who has always forced Charlie Paddock to the tape in the hundred and forty long. Krogness is a former star hurdler and only beaten in both intercollegiate and national hurdle events last year by Earl Thompson. Jack Merchant is this year's sensation of the intercollegiate meet in the east. When representing the University of California he was the largest individual point winner and acclamation as the greatest athlete of the present day.

This is the second team that has visited New Zealand on the invitation of that country. In 1913 a four-man team invaded New Zealand and Australia under the management of Eustace Peixotte as the duly accredited representatives of this country. That team was composed of Geo. Col. Ruppert Now Yanks Sole Owner

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, part owner of the New York Yanks, has announced definitely that he has become sole owner of the club. He is buying out the interests of Colonel T. L. Huston. Details of the sale were closed yesterday afternoon. All that remains is for an agreement to be drawn up and a few minor details needed, Ruppert said.

Aden Hughes in the 440, should help in the point winning.

Although the schedule is not complete, the University of Southern California will compete in the following meets: Stanford, California, A. A. U. and the L. C. A. A. A., which will be held in Boston.

Charley Paddock's announced intention to continue at the University of Southern California may mean that this champion may again be seen in intercollegiate competition, as he has indicated a desire to run in the eastern intercollegiate. However, in view of his justly famous temperament, and plenty of salt.

A strong sentiment is being aroused all over the country to the effect that automobilism no longer is sport but butchery. With nearly 14,000 fatalities reported in the United States, there is every indication that some drastic legislation will be enacted to put an end, as far as possible, to this condition. California already is discussing the pros and cons of road racing, and while auto dealers are loath to have an end put to this type of racing, it is likely that they will prevail against a rising public sentiment.

Georgia College to Memorialize Watson

ATLANTA, Ga.—As a memorial to the life of the late United States Senator Thomas E. Watson, "Sage of Hickory Hill," Thomson, Ga., there will be established in this state a great college for the education of the sons and daughters of Georgians who otherwise could not be given the advantage of a college course.

This is the plan of the Watson Memorial association formed at Macon, Ga., recently.

A committee of the former staunch Wilson supporters representing every county in the state is being organized, and this committee will have charge of the contributions to the memorial fund.

State Senator James Boykin, who is heading the movement, declared that in his opinion Senator Watson would have preferred such a memorial as a college rather than some massive piece of granite, marble, or a tomb towering above his last resting place.

Xmas Gifts!

IN "WESTERN AUTO'S" immense stocks you can readily find just the items you would like to give to your motoring friends for Christmas gifts. Choose as you like, the very practical articles or the more unusual gifts, but you can be sure of pleasing the recipient with something good for the car. We invite you to come in and look around, only do it early.

Ideal Gifts for the Motorist—

- TIRES—A Western Giant Cord would make a very acceptable gift, lasting, worth while and appropriate.
- BUMPERS—Every driver wants them because of their protection and because they add so much to appearance of a car.
- SPEEDOMETER—The genuine Stewart speedometer for Ford cars is the standard and therefore a most acceptable gift.
- INTERIOR MIRROR—A great convenience to the driver. We have several styles.
- AERMORE HORN—These horns attach to the exhaust and give a musical chime note, gentle or strong as needed. Drivers like them.
- SKID CHAINS—Sure, drivers need them at this season, and they make a mighty practical gift.
- ROBES—Nice wool robes are acceptable for a small car as well as a large one. And would be appreciated at Xmas.
- GLOVES—Gloves and gauntlets for both ladies and men who drive. Let us show you.
- AUTO THEFT SIGNALS—Good protection against theft, and needed by every car owner. A good gift.
- FLOWER VASES—Especially those in the enclosed cars that are so popular.
- AUTO CLOCKS—A nice accessory for any car, and especially nice for a Christmas gift.
- TIRE COVER—An inexpensive item that serves a very good purpose with the car owner.
- WINDSHIELD WINGS—About the nicest thing you could give for the man who likes to dress up his car.
- FIRE EXTINGUISHER—Should be on every car for that emergency that we all hope to miss. They reduce insurance, too.
- FLASHLIGHTS—Handy anywhere and time, but especially around the car. See our big assortment.
- LOCKING RADIATOR CAPS—They do look nice—those Deluxe radiator caps—and lock so they can not be stolen.
- SET OF SPARK PLUGS—Every driver likes some extra plugs. Name the car and we show you the right plug.
- MOTOMETER—A beautiful accessory for the car, and useful because it tells just what conditions in the motor are. A dandy gift.

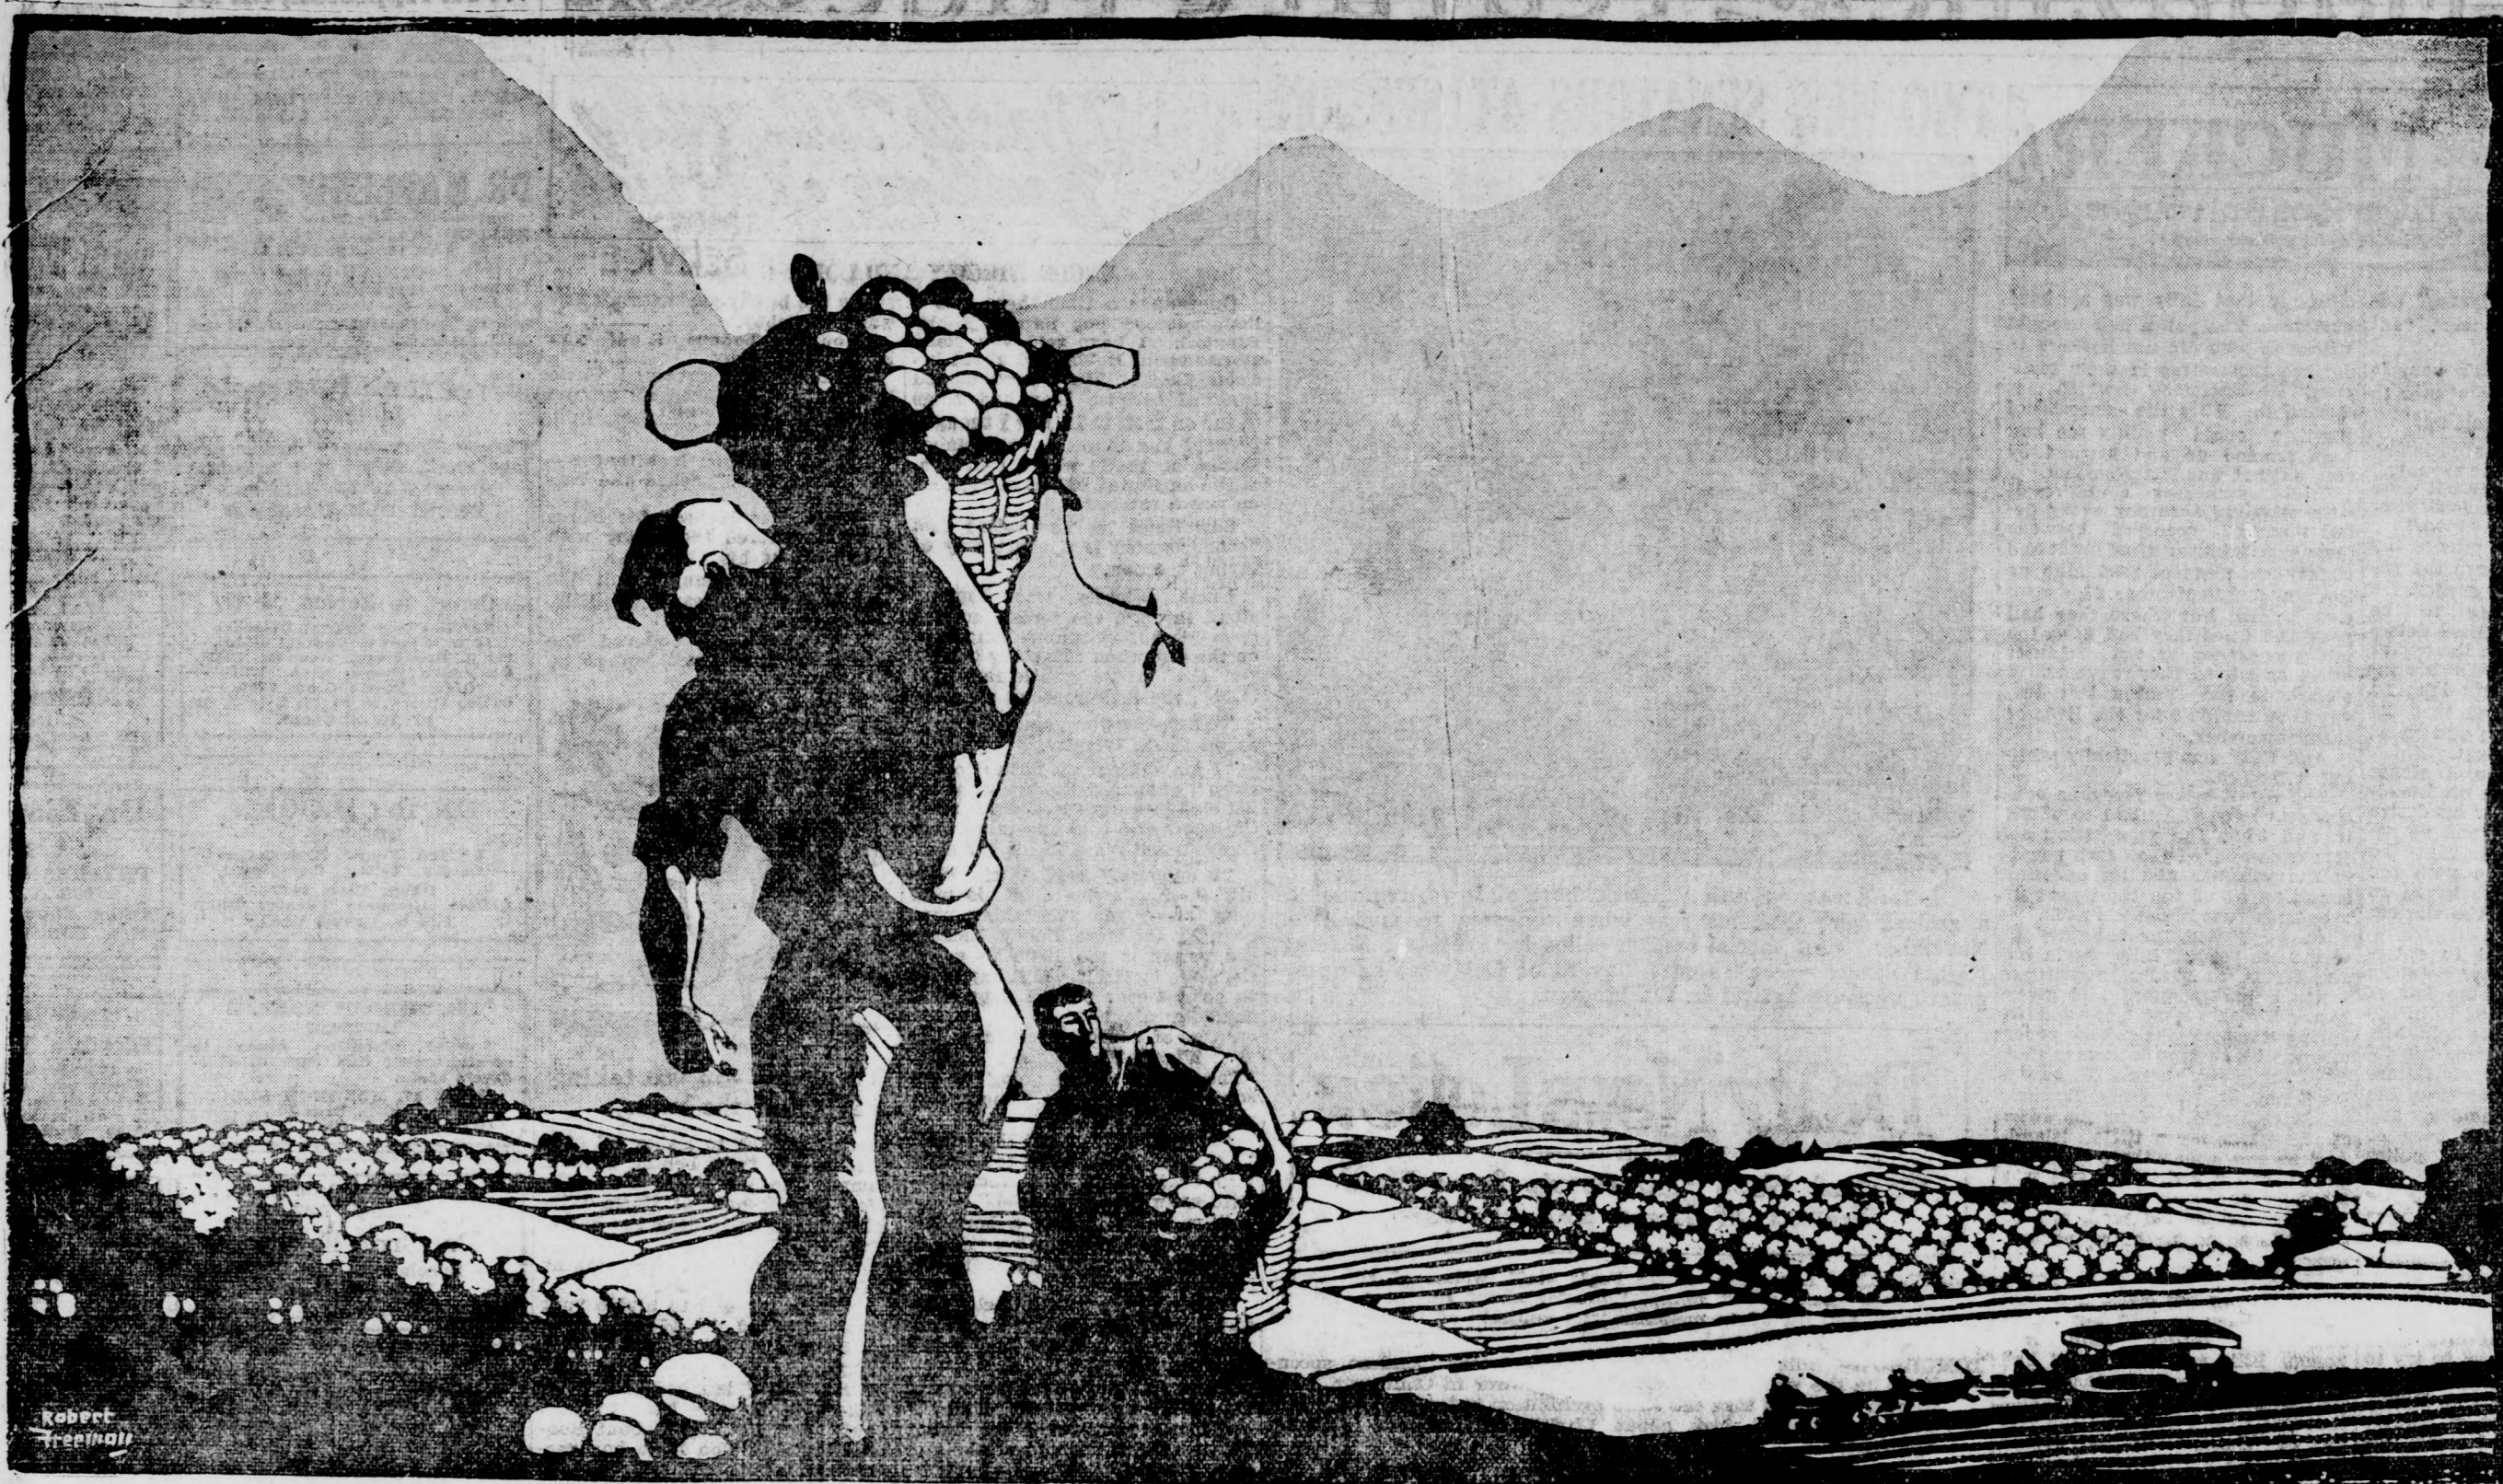

Saving Sam's Tip.

Maybe some of you women folk think that a wrench or some other common item for the car would not be much of a Christmas gift, but you try doling one up in some tissue paper and ribbon and then watch "Dad," or the boy, look it over with real appreciation when he unwraps it. I know.

California's Agricultural Wealth Approximates Three Billion Five Hundred Million Dollars

Here are facts about California which should make every one of her citizens prouder than ever before of this Commonwealth.

And they should be sent broadcast over the United States so that citizens of other states may more fully appreciate the wonders of California.

Note This Service To Your State

This advertisement tells of one phase of California's greatness. Two other advertisements tell the other phases. Your Eastern friends should know these facts. Help us tell them. Send us a list of names and addresses of people whom you would like to have receive these advertisements and the literature of Californians, Inc., the All-Year Club of Southern California, and the San Diego-California Club. This will help your State.

Here is a state that is 780 miles long and from 150 to 350 miles wide, with a total area of 158,297 square miles, nearly as great as the combined area of New York, Ohio, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Within its boundaries lie the highest and lowest points in the States. Mount Whitney rises 14,502 feet above sea level, while Death Valley sinks almost 400 feet below sea level.

And here are mountains, rich in mineral and timber resources, valleys of amazing fertility, world famous harbors, cities teeming with industrial activity, lovely homes and contented people.

Agricultural Income $700,000,000

Of the fourteen leading counties in the United States in total value of crops, seven are California counties.

The total annual income from the field and tree crops of this state is $587,600,591. Dairying adds an income of $99,004,358.

Though probably as famous for her oranges as for any other single product—California's oranges bring her over $50,000,000 annually—this state also raises many millions of dollars' worth of peaches, prunes, apples, apricots, walnuts, pears, plums, lemons, cherries, almonds, grapefruit, figs and olives.

Here grow the earliest and latest fruit crops of the country; and more winter fruits and vegetables than in all the rest of the United States combined.

California's vineyards return to her citizens over $92,000,000 per year for raisins and grapes.

California's field crops bring great wealth, too. California has been the leader in the raising of barley since 1852, and her annual income from this crop aggregates nearly $30,000,000.

California is the second largest hay and rice growing state in the Union. The former returns over $100,000,000 a year and the latter over $11,000,000.

Great crops of wheat, corn, oats, beans, cotton, tobacco, hemp, rye, potatoes, sugar beets, melons and garden truck are harvested every year and add their millions to California's wealth.

Farm Values Increasing

A study of comparative figures reveals the fact that though the average size of farms is decreasing, the average value of farms is rapidly increasing. Note these figures:

Average acreage per farm:	1920	1910	1900
All land.....	249.6	316.7	397.4
Improved land.....	100.9	129.1	164.9
Average value per farm:
All farm property.....	$29,158	$18,308	$10,980
Land and buildings.....	26,122	16,447	9,759
Implements and machinery.....	1,156	414	294
Live stock.....	1,879	1,447	928

Another important factor in California's agricultural wealth is an enormous investment in live stock which totals over $200,000,000. The investment in poultry runs over fifteen million dollars; more than eight million dollars' worth of eggs alone were shipped from California in a recent year.

Three billion, five hundred million dollars is the agricultural wealth of California and she has great additional wealth in her natural resources and her growing industries.

Serve Your State This Way

This advertisement is one of a series of three, the first devoted to telling of California's agricultural wealth, the second to California's natural resources, and the third to California's industries. These are facts of which you can well be proud.

Beautiful booklets and descriptive literature about California have been prepared by such organizations as Californians, Inc., San Francisco; by the All-Year Club of Southern California, Los Angeles, and by the San Diego-California Club, San Diego.

There are thousands of people in other states who have no conception of California's greatness. Some of them are your friends. Help us tell them.

If you will send to the Southern Pacific Company a list of the names and addresses of your friends, living elsewhere, whom you would like to have receive this series of advertisements, as well as the California literature prepared by these organizations, which have for their sole purpose the advertising of California, we will see that your friends get this California literature.

Your Own Community

Note the map which shows where your town is located. Your friends will be glad to know. The list of names you send us will be turned over to your own Chamber of Commerce or other civic organization and literature will be sent to your friends and kinsmen telling them interesting facts about your own particular community.

Simply attach your list to the coupon below and send it to us—no obligation on your part. Do it today before you forget. In this way you will help spread this message of California's greatness throughout the land and perform a valuable service not only to your State but to yourself and to your community.

The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Copyright 1921 by Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Come easy now, Byrne," admonished one of the men, "an' don't make no fuss."

"Oh," said Billy, "it's you, is it? Well, I was just goin' over to the station to give myself up."

Both men laughed, skeptically. "We'll just save you the trouble," said one of them. "We'll take you over. You might lose your way if you tried to go alone."

Billy went along in silence the rest of the way to where the patrol waited at another corner. He saw there was nothing to be gained by talking to these detectives; but he found the lieutenant equally inclined to doubt his intentions. He, too, only laughed when Billy assured him that he was on his way to the station at the very instant of arrest.

As the weeks dragged along, and Billy Byrne found no friendly interest in himself or his desire to live on the square, and no belief in his protestations that he had had naught to do with the killing of Schneider, he began to have his doubts as to the wisdom of his act.

He also commenced to entertain some of his former opinions of the police, and of the law of which they are supposed to be the guardians. A cell-mate told him that the papers had scored the department heavily for their failure to apprehend the murderer of the inoffensive old Schneider, and that public opinion had been so aroused that a general police shakeup had followed.

The result was that the police were keen to fasten the guilt upon someone—they did not care whom, so long as it was someone who was in their custody.

"You may not o' done it," ventured the cell-mate; "but they'll send you up for it, if they can't hang you. They're goin' to try to get the death sentence. They hain't got no love for you, Byrne. You caused 'em a lot of trouble in your day an' they haven't forgot it. I'd hate to be in your boots."

Billy Byrne shrugged. Where were his dreams of justice? They seemed to have faded back into the old distrust and hatred. He shook himself and conjured in his mind the vision of a beautiful girl who had believed in him and trusted him—who had incalculable within him a love for all that was finest and best in true manhood, for the very things that he had most hated all the years of his life before she had come into his existence to alter it and him.

And then Billy would believe again—believe that in the end justice would triumph and that it would all come out right, just the way he had pictured it.

With the coming of the last day of the trial Billy found it more difficult to adhere to his regard for law, order, and justice. The prosecution had shown conclusively that Billy was a hard customer. The police had brought witnesses who did not hesitate to perjure themselves in their testimony—testimony which it seemed to Billy the densest of jurymen could plainly see had been framed up and learned by rote until it was letter-perfect.

These witnesses could recall with startling accuracy every detail that had occurred between seventeen minutes after eight and twenty-one minutes past nine on the night of September 23 over a year before; but where they had been and what they had done ten minutes earlier or ten minutes later, or where they were at 9 o'clock in the evening last Friday they couldn't for the lives of them remember.

And Billy was practically without witnesses.

The result was a foregone conclusion. Even Billy had to admit it, and when the prosecuting attorney demanded the death penalty for the prisoner and an uneasy sensation as of the tightening of a hempen rope about his neck.

As he waited for the jury to return its verdict Billy sat in his cell trying to read a newspaper which a kindly guard had given him. But his eyes persisted in boring through the white paper and the black type to scenes that were not in any paper. He saw a turbulent river tumbling through a savage world, and in the swirl of the water lay a little island. And he saw a man there upon the island, and a girl. The girl was teaching the man to speak the language of the cultured, and to view life as people of refinement view it.

She taught him what honor meant among her class, and that it was better to lose any other possession rather than lose honor. Billy realized that it had been these lessons that had spurred him on to the mad scheme that was to end now with the verdict of "guilty"—he had wished to vindicate his honor, and a hard laugh broke from his lips; but instantly he sobered and his face softened.

It had been for her sake after all, and what mattered it if they did send him to the gallows? He had not sacrificed his honor—he had done his best to assert it. He was innocent. They could kill him but they couldn't make him guilty. A thousand juries pronouncing him so could not make it true that he had killed Schneider.

But it would be hard, after all his hopes, after all the plans he had made to live square, to show them. His eyes, still boring through the paper, suddenly found themselves attracted by something in the text before them—a name, Harding.

Billy Byrne shook himself and commenced to read:

PARIS, Dec. 13.—"No more jazzing of funeral marches," says the Society of Authors and Composers. Jazz and classic music ought not to be mixed. A certain tinge of gentle melancholy is considered essential to modern dancing, and thus ingenious but unscrupulous conductors have turned Chopin's "Funeral March" into a fox trot and extracted a one-step from Beethoven's "Heroic Symphony." The Society of Authors feels that the matter has come to a point where they must protect the works of the great masters and has warned all jazz-band conductors and proprietors of dancing halls.

If birds tell anything France is to have an early and severe winter. Swarms of migratory birds have been flying southward and in the Landes it has been possible to catch quail by hand. Plovers have been particularly noticed, which is a sure sign of a cold winter, say old weather prophets.

The "Dance of the Glider" is the newest one which bids fair to capture all Paris. This new dance, named after the motorless aeroplane, is being performed by a beautiful English dancer, Iris Rowe and her partner, Monsieur Quinault, in which she glides her way on to the stage, her feet scarcely touching the floor. She traverses the whole stage, seemingly in the air with arms outstretched. She is the "human glider" of Paris.

A drama in thirty words: Sunday morning in the Central Telegraph office, Paris, France. An old woman dressed in very deep mourning presents herself at the window.

"May I send a telegram to Holland, please?"

"Certainly, madame."

"Will you please send this for me?" and she handed over the following dispatch:

"To William Hohenzollern, 'Chateau de Doorn, 'Amerongen."

"A mother whose three sons you have killed wishes you, on the occasion of your marriage, all the happiness you merit."

"Fifteen francs, please," said the employee.

The old lady paid and went away.

The gem market of the world will soon be concentrated in London instead of Paris, which has always been the greatest mart for precious stones. Intricate customs regulation is said to be the cause of the trade disaster, according to Monsieur Citroen, president of the Jewel Merchants' guild. "Customs officers," he says, "have been given the role of experts in sapphires, pearls and diamonds, and fines have been imposed on masses. The result is that foreign dealers are disgusted and have transferred their scenes of operation to London. During 1921 the imports of precious stones into France amounted to 34,000,000 pounds sterling and the exports 40,000,000 pounds. It is incredible that such a profitable French commerce should be sacrificed."

"Lobster à l'Americaine," a favorite dish on this side of the water was not discovered in America, after all, but in France, according to the Baron Brise, who publishes his recipe for the delicacy in "La Salle a Manger." It is given such as it was prepared by Noel, the celebrated restaurateur.

Playing Santa Claus to a young mother was the role of a Paris chauffeur. Just as the taxi stopped at the Gare des Invalides his passenger discovered that her pocketbook was missing.

"What am I to do," she cried in distress. "I must catch the next train to get my sick baby to the sanitarium and I haven't a cent of money."

"Will fifty francs do you any good?" inquired the chauffeur, as he handed out a bill.

And when the poor mother asked to whom she owed the kindness the taxicab driver presented his card, which read: "Colonel Ignatieff of the military establishment of the 'Czar'."

Fifty-six years to go from the Province of Gerona to Madrid is the record established by a letter which has just turned up in the Spanish capital. It was mailed on February 1, 1866, and contained a report on the finances of the Province of Gerona.

Waiters in Paris hotels, cafes and restaurants are asking that tips be abolished and replaced by a fixed percentage added to the bill.

"What we now receive is almost always less than what this rate would bring us," said some of the waiters of the union recently. "The stories of the fabulous sums we receive in tips are absolutely groundless. A few Americans are generous, but many others are negligent or unwilling to recognize our services." The correct tip is supposed to be 10 per cent of the total, but the waiters are asking for 20 per cent.

France has just voted a credit of 130,000 francs for the observation of the eclipse of the sun which will be visible in America in 1923. The mission will comprise five astronomers and mechanicians, who will make their observations at a small Mexican port just south of Los Angeles. They will attempt to verify one of the most curious consequences of the Einstein theory—if the light coming from a star and passing near the sun is deviated or attracted by the great mass of the star.

Big Silk Industry on Negros Island

MANILA—Success of the silk industry on the island of Negros is predicted by a planter there who for 15 years has been profitably producing the fibre.

The planter has a grove of 40 acres of mulberry trees four to five years old, now, and is raising silk worms at the rate of eight generations a year. The silk is taken from the cocoon and spun and woven on home-made spinning wheels. He expects, however, to organize a corporation shortly to finance the purchase of modern machinery. Charles S. Banks, well known entomologist, declares that the Negros silk is superior to that of any other locality.

It is estimated that the silk output of the district will amount to half a million dollars annually within the next five years.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BOBBY'S BALL

Once upon a time there was a little raccoon boy named Bobby Ringtail. I have told you some stories about Bobby and about his sister Betty. They were named Ringtail because they had rings of fur on their tails. But I thought perhaps you might not remember Bobby, so that's why I told you, at the beginning of this story, that he was a raccoon.

Sometimes he was called just "coon," which is a short way of saying raccoon.

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the forest, not far from his hollow stump bungalow, on the day when this story begins, and the rabbit gentleman met Bobby, the little raccoon chap.

"Where are you going, Bobby?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I am taking my penny to the store," answered Bobby, who, being clad in warm fur, did not mind the snow and cold any more than Uncle Wiggily did in his fur coat.

"I suppose," said Uncle Wiggily, with a twinkle of his pink nose, "that you are taking your penny to the store, Bobby, because the penny is too little to go to the store by itself. If it happened to be a 5-cent piece I suppose it could go alone."

"Oh, of course it couldn't," Uncle Wiggily laughed. Bobby. "The reason I am going to the store is because I am going to buy a ball for myself."

"A baseball?" asked the bunny. "I should think it was too late to play baseball, or even football, with snow on the ground."

"I'm going to buy a bouncing rubber ball," said Bobby. "And, if you like, you may come to the store with me."

"Thank you," said Uncle Wiggily, "but I am looking for an adventure. If I can't find one I may see you later."

"And you may watch me bounce my rubber ball," offered Bobby. "Thank you," said the bunny gentleman, as he hopped along to find an adventure. But adventures were scarce that day, and, as the only one Uncle Wiggily had was when he helped Uncle Butter tear some old circus posters off a billboard, "Aunt Lettie isn't feeling well," heated Uncle Wiggily, and I thought some billboard poster soup would make her better."

"I hope it does," wished Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped along, while the goat gentleman took the bundle of poster paper to Aunt Lettie.

That was the only adventure Uncle Wiggily had, and he was rather disappointed as he hopped on through the woods. But soon he saw Bobby Ringtail, the raccoon boy, bouncing his ball.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" cried Bobby, as he saw the bunny gentleman. "Look how my ball bounces—so high!" And, really, the rubber ball, with a little hole in it, did go very high.

"That is a very fine ball—one of the best I have seen this year,"

RADIO TELEGRAPH KEYS

With the ever increasing popularity of continuous wave telegraphy, the discriminating experimenter who is constructing his own transmitter will have need of a key that will give him general utility.

The illustrated key embodies features that make it a very satisfactory unit. All parts are made to withstand hard usage under all operating conditions, yet at the same time are as flexible as an ordinary telegraph key. It may be used on any set up to and including two kilowatts.

The key knob is of the latest flameproof type, and on account of its construction allows the operator to work faster and longer without tiring.

This unit is similar to those designed for the navy.

CHARGING LEAD CELLS.

In a previous article we have mentioned that there are certain charge and discharge rates prescribed for certain types and sizes of lead cell batteries.

In Fig. 1 is given a diagram of a charging circuit which is typical for charging batteries. While a battery is receiving a current from some outside source it is said to be charging. In Fig. 1 the dynamo, or source of supply ammeter and rheostat, marked R, and is connected through the ammeter and rheostat, marked R, to the battery, so that the positive pole of the battery is connected to the positive pole of the dynamo, or source of direct current supply; this will send the charging current against the electromotive force of the battery. To thus connect the positive pole of the dynamo to the positive pole of the battery is most important, as a reversal of this would cause injury to the battery.

Before charging, an inspection of the electrolyte should be made and if found less than one-half inch above the top, chemically pure or distilled water should be added until that amount of electrolyte shows over the top of the plates. Do not spill the water over the top of the cover of the cell, or a short or partial short circuit will result through the water from the positive to the negative poles and a leakage occurs, eventually resulting in a total discharge of the cell, if the leakage is allowed to continue. In this connection, and also for the purpose of preventing the creepage of sulphate, it is advisable to cover the top of the cell and the terminals with a light coat of vaseline.

RESEDA BANK HAS FORMAL OPENING

New Institution Capitalized
at Million Dollars; Half Is Paid in

Opening of the Reseda State bank at what formerly was the town of Marian was effected December 9, according to word just reaching Van Nuys. The new bank is one of the most modern institutions to be established in that community in the past year.

The new bank has an authorized capital of $1,000,000. Of this $50,000 capital and $10,000 in surplus stock have been paid in. H. J. Whitley is one of the heaviest stockholders.

It is understood that the bank will operate both commercial and savings departments.

Erecting Club House
The Encino Country club buildings and grounds which are located on an estate of more than 1700 acres in the Santa Monica mountains, five miles southwest of Van Nuys, are rapidly nearing completion.

Construction work on a large attractive club house and a large inn has been going on for some time.

A rifle range and trap shooting ground has been provided and 500 acres of the estate will be set apart for a game preserve.

New Nursery Inspected
The office and sales buildings recently erected for the Van Nuys Nursery company at East Priar street, were thrown open for public inspection this week. With the new improvements Van Nuys can now boast of having the largest nursery of any city in Los Angeles county. Robert J. Baird is the proprietor.

Market Opens Saturday
The Holly Public Market and Shopping Center will be opened in Van Nuys December 16, according to an announcement made by B. R. Holloway, the proprietor. The market building was recently erected at considerable expense.

Civic Organization Changes Meet Day

The Glendale Advancement association hereafter will hold its weekly meeting at the Broadway Inn on Tuesdays, according to an announcement made this morning by C. W. Ingledue, president of the organization. This action was taken because the Real Estate Board has chartered the assembly rooms at the Broadway Inn for Thursdays, he said. Because of the change in meeting dates the advancement association will not hold any session this week.

Make Overtures to Locate on Municipal Landing
Port, Announced

Following closely in the wake of the announcement that the city had purchased thirty-three acres of land on the San Fernando boulevard for a proposed airplane port, City Manager William H. Reeves this morning stated that nine airplane companies which specialize in different branches of the industry had already made proposals for dockage at the new "air" port.

Mr. Reeves also made clear some of the pertinent facts regarding the city's purchase. They are:

First—The property purchased comprises thirty-three acres. It is located due east of the city's pump plant, at Grand View and San Fernando boulevard.

Second—The property just acquired adjoins on the south the fourteen acres of land already owned by the city. It also abuts two acres of land which now houses the city's pumping plant.

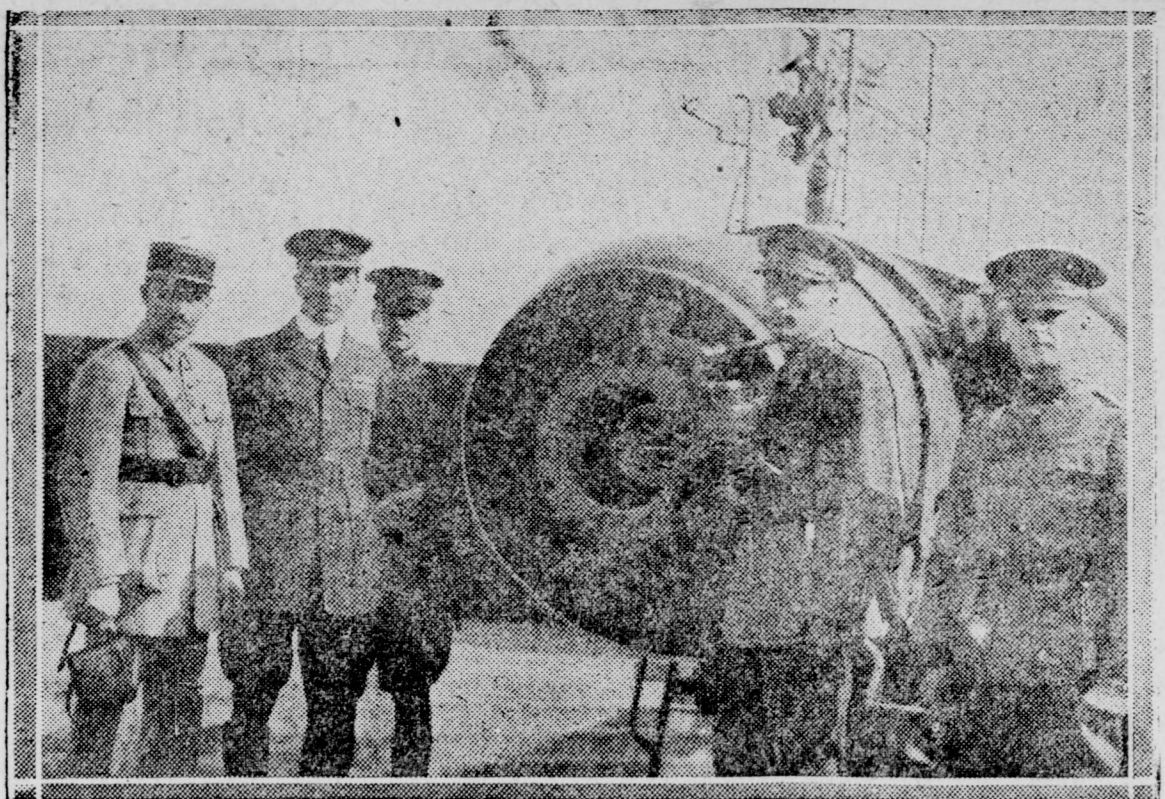

Third—The price paid for the thirty-three acres was $66,000. The first payment made by the city was $16,500. The rest of the purchase price will be met in two, three and four-year payments.

Fourth—The property was purchased from J. D. Radcliff, of Burbank. It was formerly in the possession of Roy L. Kent, who held an option on the land. The price he held the property for—$2000 an acre—was the figure that the city accepted.

Mr. Reeves said that the property as it stands today does not require any improvement. It is in order now for immediate possession by industries negotiating for manufacturing sites, he stated.

The firms which have made overtures for industrial sites include the William L. Cross company, aerial photographers; Kinser Aeroplane & Motor Corporation, airplane supplies and accessories; Western Air Craft Corporation, mechanical supplies, dies and tools; Earl S. Daugherty, school of aviation and passenger carrying company; California-Curtiss Aeroplane company, Curtiss airplane distributors for southern California; Catron-Fiske company, airplane engineering works; The Ace Publishing company, publisher of the airplane magazine "Ace"; Leon T. Ellet, photo map makers, of Pasadena; and the Aeronaut Chamber of Commerce of America.

Young Mother Seeks Death With Babies

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—A young mother is at the brink of death today and her two babies are sleeping—never to awaken—because she could no longer face the cares of the world.

Mrs. George Feles had been ill, despondent. Last night she lay on the bed and nestled her little ones to her bosom. She was so tired, she wanted to rest forever with her children. She turned on the gas.

Her husband—a waiter—hurried home to greet his family. The house was dark, things seemed strange. He entered the gas filled room. He found his baby Margaret dead. His 3-year-old boy James died on the way to the hospital.

"The babies, George—I did it for their sake," she gasped. "I wanted to go with them."

dea, of New York. Of the foregoing firms, all but the two latter have headquarters in Los Angeles at the present.

City officials generally expressed the opinion this morning that a week or more will probably elapse before any definite information is forthcoming regarding the industries slated to move here.

Several Big Movies Booked by T. D. & L.

Douglas Fairbanks' great classic "Robin Hood," and Mary Pickford's equally popular "Tess of the Storm Country" are scheduled to join the list of other celebrated attractions coming to the T. D. & L. theatres soon. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks' latest productions are considered universally as among the greatest in film history, and their showing in Glendale, which will be at admissions less than those charged in Los Angeles and Hollywood theatres, is an announcement of prime importance.

Other big films on the T. D. & L. list for early presentation include "Oliver Twist," with Jackie Coogan, "Omar, the Tentmaker," with Guy Bates Post, "East Is West," with Constance Talmadge, and "The Young Rajah," with Rudolph Valentino.

To back up his announcement that the T. D. & L. theatre in the coming weeks will present all that is biggest and best in motion pictures, Manager Ralph Allan states that C. L. Langley, general manager of the firm of Turner, Dahlen & Langley, has approved of the entire program.

B. T. Sherbon Busy Building New Homes

B. T. Sherbon, contractor and builder, has been in southern California only eight weeks but in that time he has built three houses and is now on a fourth, at 614 East Chestnut street, which will be his own home. He is at present living, with his wife and son, Donald, at 1427 Rock Glen avenue, but as soon as the new quarters are finished the family will move in. This will be within three weeks.

The Sherbons come from Hartley, Iowa, where Mr. Sherbon has been in the contracting and building business for twenty years. The fact that five of his best men, including a lather, a plasterer and a carpenter, have followed him to Glendale, makes Mr. Sherbon feel particularly optimistic regarding the business he is building here. With those old experienced hands who contributed to his success back in Iowa, he feels that he can successfully handle any job, no matter how large or how small.

Prohibition department chemists at Washington have developed a process making impossible the redistilling of wood alcohol and denatured alcohol into alcohol for beverage purposes.

HOLIDAY CHEER WELL DISPLAYED

Fashion Center Has Real
Eastern Holly; Provides
Christmas Spirit

There is nothing so truly radiant as does a wreath or spray of real Eastern holly and the large shipment, recently received at the Fashion Center in the new Monarch building on South Brand boulevard and fashioned into large wreaths and sprays for window and store decoration, provides greetings of Christmas cheer for holiday visitors at the little shop.

The brilliant green pointed leaves and shining red berries seem to breathe of the cold, biting Christmas weather in the east and therefore afford an ideal atmosphere for the present showing of an attractive line of sample fur coats and fur neck pieces, just received from New York and going on sale tomorrow for half price.

Greatly Gratified
There were half a dozen bids for this splendid line and M. J. McKinnon, head of the Fashion Center's ready-to-wear and fur department, is greatly gratified over the favor he received. It is a guaranteed line and includes interesting models, any of which would be prized additions to mid-lady's wardrobe.

Among the coats are Hudson seal, French seal, natural Caracul, Persian lamb, marmot, muskrat, dyed Caracul and kit Coney. The neck pieces are of the regular neck piece type and the stole designs and are seen in cross foxes, stone Martin, taupe and black foxes, squirrel, skunk and kit foxes.

In marked contrast to the suggestions for winter, is the advance showing of a few exclusive dresses for spring just received from New York by the Fashion Center people. The dresses are beautifully conservative, in taffetas and Canton crepes, cleverly trimmed with laces, ribbons and ornaments.

What Shall Man Do When Love Vanishes?

LONDON—"If a man finds his engagement is a mistake, what is he to do?" That is the question asked by Judge McCordie, one of the most distinguished of the English judiciary—and a bachelor.

"An engagement to marry is not like a bargain made in a counting house; it is not an ordinary contract.

"Is the man, then, to say to the girl: 'All my affection is gone, but I will marry you rather than have a breach of promise case?'"

"Or is he to say: 'I believe the right and honest thing is not to marry, and I will submit to any damages the jury thinks fit to give.'"

"Marriage in the eyes of the churches is a life-long contract that nothing but death can dissolve.

"But the consequences of unhappy marriages are seen every day in the congested lists of our divorce courts."

W. Bombard Reports San Diego Roads Bad

Roads along the coast route from here to San Diego are difficult to navigate just at present, according to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bombard, 512 West Salem street, who have returned from a duck hunting trip in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Bombard and party left in their car Saturday and returned the first of the week. They reported that at least twenty-five cars had skidded and turned turtle. Heavy trucks slid off steep embankments. The pleasure trip lost all its pleasant features because of the sliding of the car on wet roads, they said.

Bullet Proof Auto to Carry Payroll

CINCINNATI—Lined with bullet proof nickel steel and pierced with convenient loopholes, a special payroll truck has been turned over to the Procter & Gamble Soap company. The "bandit-proof car" will accommodate three guards and a chauffeur, who is protected by a reinforced windshield capable of stopping the bullet of a .45-calibre pistol. It is capable of fifty miles an hour and will be used in transporting the soap company's weekly payroll from a downtown Cincinnati bank to the Procter & Gamble plant, in Ivorydale, outside the city limits.

SOUND TESTORY BY CONAN DOYLE OLD

Scientists Indicate That Fact Has Been Known
For Some Time

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON—There were days when the discoveries of Sherlock Holmes were startling the world, but those days have passed and now Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the alter-ego of Sherlock, is devoting his energies to new fields.

Though Sherlock has been laid on the shelf, Sir Arthur is making discoveries which are almost as marvelous as those made by the pipe-smoking sleuth of old.

Sir Arthur has discovered spirals galore. He has found a way to photograph the fairies and now he comes along with the discovery of birds that sing but whose songs are lost to human ears.

Makes Sound Test

Visitors to Sir Arthur at his home in Crowborough tell of rather interesting, if not astonishing, experiments which the writer carries on. He has a cage of Japanese birds in his drawing room and when the birds start to sing he instructs his visitors to watch the birds closely and to listen closely, asking them to make a signal when they can no longer hear the song but can still see the throat of the bird throbbing. The visitors all agree that the bird's song reaches a stage where it is not audible, but there is every outward indication that the song is still going on. According to visitors Sir Arthur's conclusions are that nature is full of tremendous voices which are inaudible to the human ear.

Sir William Explains

"Sound consists of a series of waves in the air," Sir William says. "The human ear is tuned to perceive some of them, but not all. There is an upper limit to the frequency which is audible. Different persons have different limits of hearing, and limit changes with age. For instance, as one grows older one generally ceases to hear the shrilling crickets, and it sometimes puzzles children to hear the air full of noise, while their elders are unconscious of it."

So, if Sir William knows whereof he speaks, it would seem that there is scientific refutation that the latest "discovery" of Sir Arthur is a discovery at all, and in view of the fact that his fairy photographs haven't been altogether accepted without doubts, it would seem that people had more faith in the discoveries of Sherlock Holmes than they have in the latter day discoveries of the alter-ego of Sherlock.

U. S. Aviators Are Given Up as Lost

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 13.—Little hope is held out at Eighth corps aero headquarters or at Kelly field that Lieutenant Francis Marshall and Lieutenant Charles L. Webber will be found alive. The two army men hopped off from San Diego, Cal., for Fort Huachuca, Arizona, last week and have not been heard from since.

According to the officers at corps headquarters and the big flying field, the plane is thought to have been forced down somewhere in the Santa Rita mountains southeast of Tucson, Ariz., last Thursday, when the aviators were seen by a mail carrier near Sahuarito, Arizona. Colonel E. B. Winans, in charge of the search, reported to Major General Lewis, corps commander, that the plane was flying low and the engine missing badly at the time. Forest rangers, under Hugh Calkins, supervisor of the Coronado National park, in which the Santa Rita mountains are located, have joined the search.

ANNUAL VARIETY SHOW IS STAGED

High School Student Body
Gives Special Matinee
for Grade Pupils

The premier performance of the student body's annual variety show is being given this afternoon at a special matinee for grammar school students in the auditorium of Glendale Union High school.

"Grown-ups" from all parts of the high school district will witness the performances Thursday and Friday nights. Because of the excellence of preceding variety shows, tickets for this one have sold unusually readily.

According to Principal George U. Moyle, the audiences at the annual variety shows never fail to be astonished at the amount of talent displayed by the pupils of Glendale Union High school.

This season's vaudeville show includes over a dozen acts, each of which has been carefully coached by a member of the faculty.

Musical numbers include selections by the high school orchestra, violin numbers by Miss Hazel Linkogel, and harp solos by Miss Marjorie Jean Bailey.

Short Minstrel Show
Stillman Chase will be inter-locutor in a brief but snappy minstrel show which is scheduled to keep the audience in a stage of mirthful hilarity.

Latest song hits will be played by a jazz band consisting of Alvin Brown, Marshall Phillips, Louie Truitt, Burt Aageson, Ivan Dow, Thomas Woods, Arthur Cressey and Graham Totts. They guarantee that very few feet will be still during their act.

A "chalk talk" will be given by Alfred Taliaferro and Wilford Jackson, who are reported to be "whizzes" as cartoonists.

A demonstration of chemical magic will be given by Stanley Johns and Loren Patrick. It is said that they even know the magic art of bluffing.

"The Pot Boiler" is the title of a short skit by Alice Gerstenberger, a playwright, which will be presented by Miss Cary White, Ralph Van Hoorebeke, Miss Genevieve Kraker, Miss Charlotte Winsel, David Riskin, George Juett and Harry Bennett. The plot revolves about a stage rehearsal.

Program Is Varied
"A fiery drill" will be given by a sextette of girls from the physical training department, including: Miss Eleanor Foster, Miss Lorna Richman, Miss Alice Dornier, Miss Hazel Read, Miss Ethel Burke and Miss Dorothy Zeitlin. They have promised not to let any of the Indian clubs slip.

"Boosting Bridge" is the title of a comedy sketch by Elizabeth Gale, playwright. The action takes place in a certain home on a certain afternoon for a certain cause—all of which will be explained during the act. Those participating are Miss Rebecca Hodge, Miss Marjorie Jean Bailey, Miss Gladys Peckham, Miss Helen Sherwood, Miss Eloene Truitt, Miss Dorothy Watson and Miss Cornelia Wilson. This skit is said to be screamingly funny.

Last, but not least, William Justinae the second, himself, will impersonate a widow for the edification of both sexes. He will be assisted by Allan Pollock. Their act was written by young Justinae and is called "An Immediate Satire."

COMMUNITY SING ON MONDAY NIGHT

Invite Public to Attend
Songfest in Auditorium of High School

Glendale is to have a real old-fashioned community sing, in a new-fashioned way, to which everybody is invited. The Glendale High school auditorium has been secured for the occasion and the time has been set for Monday night, December 18. Several Christmas carols will be sung under the direction of Alexander Stewart, music organizer of Community Service for the Pacific coast, and a real treat in the way of an additional musical program will follow.

"People are rapidly becoming aware that the varied programs of the Community Service of Glendale, which was recently organized here, is doing a great deal towards creating a neighborly spirit and it is the hope of those who are behind the community service that Glendale will not only be known as the 'fastest growing city in America,' but also as the 'neighborly city of America,'" said Mr. Stewart.

"Surprise has been manifested by a goodly number of people to learn that the Community Service entertainments are open to everybody without charge, and that Community Service is working steadily with the purpose in mind of improving the social life of the city."

The special carol selected for publicity in The Glendale Evening News today is the most beautiful "Silent Night."

"Silent Night, Holy night,
All is calm, all is bright
Round your Virgin Mother and Child,
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace!"

Silent night, Holy night,
Shepherds quake at the sight,
Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing Alleluia;
Christ the Saviour is born!
Christ the Saviour is born!

Silent night, Holy night,
Son of God, love's pure light,
Radiant beams from Thy holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth,
Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth,
"Silent Night"

Probably no carol is so universally known, loved and sung as this simple German song. For years its origin was unknown, but supposed to date back centuries. A few years ago Ludwig Erk investigated and found that it was written in 1818. The poem was written by Joseph Mohr, at the time assistant priest in Oberndorf in South Germany; the melody was composed by Franz Gruber, a school master. On Christmas Eve of that year it was sung in the church at Oberndorf. The poet, who had a tenor voice, sang the melody, the composer, a bass, sang a second part, and a hastily recruited choir of young women the refrain. A guitar furnished the accompaniment, the organ being out of order. Twenty years or so later a family of strolling singers from the Tyrol added it to their repertoire, and in 1840 it was printed in Leipzig as a "genuine Tyrolean" song. For many years (and still in certain song books) the composer of the song was given as Joseph Haydn, probably meaning the great Franz Joseph Haydn.

A touching description of the effect of this song is given in Zona Gale's short story, "Great Tree." Certainly nothing can more quickly give the spiritual atmosphere of the manger birth than the singing of this beautiful simple song.

Syracuse College to Add Psychology

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Syracuse university will offer the first collegiate course in vocational psychology. The course will be instituted at the opening of the approaching new semester, under the direction of Professor H. W. Hepner.

Professor Hepner, who has carried on research work in the field for many years, believes misdirected energy is one of the great problems of industry and business life, and is the cause of much industrial unrest and social discontent. A large number of persons do not choose occupations to suit their abilities and temperament. This Professor Hepner asserts, leads to inevitable failure and throws the victims out of gear with modern industrial society. Vocational guidance is the remedy, he affirms.

Bonar Law's Policy Angers Labor Heads

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Laborite members of the house of commons, angered by the unemployment policy of the Bonar Law government, began a noisy filibuster which kept the house in session throughout the night. Adjournment was taken at 6:50 o'clock after laborites had accused the government of "scandalous inaction."

"We will fight in the streets if you do not give us what we want," was the ominous threat of D. Kirkwood, Scotch laborite, hurled at the occupants of the government benches. "If we do not get what we need constitutionally, we will take it unconstitutionally."

J. T. Newbould attacked Stanley Baldwin, chancellor the exchequer. "Just wait until your time comes," shouted Newbould, who is the only communist member of parliament.

Other laborites made similar speeches threatening the government for not taking immediate action to relieve distress arising from unemployment of 1,300,000 workers.

Fire Imperils Fifty Chicago Families

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Fifty families, including many women and children were driven to the streets early today when fire swept an apartment building on the west side, with an estimated loss of $10,000. Near zero weather prevailed.

Young Chicago Widow Believed Murdered

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Mrs. Kate Mitchell Trostell, pretty 32-year-old widow who mysteriously disappeared on December 2, was murdered, the police declare today, although they could not find the body. They arrested Arthur Foster, the young woman's suitor.

Foster, a powerful man, weighing about 180 pounds, refused to make any statement to the police. His arrest was brought about by the finding of red stains on the running board of his touring car.

Mrs. Trostell, night manager of a Western Union branch office, was a sweetheart of Foster prior to her marriage to Trostell. After Trostell's death, Foster renewed his attention.

A button from the woman's skirt was found in the seat of Foster's car, as was a pencil similar to the kind Mrs. Trostell carried.

In Foster's room was found a suit of clothes and an overcoat upon which there were stains. In his trunk the police found several pistol bullets, calibre .32, but no trace of a weapon.

Also the police found in his pocket a newspaper clipping telling of the disappearance of the young woman.

Foster's automobile was found, not in the garage where he usually kept it, but in a shed in the rear of the home of his father.

Police prepared this morning to dig up the ground in this vicinity to try and find the body. They said they were seeking another man, whose name they refused to divulge.
